THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXI.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA. TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 2, 1839,

THERE MAY BE A HITCH IN THE EFFORT TO PASS RESOLU-TIONS IN MEMORY OF BRIGHT.

SENATOR STEWART'S BUNGLESOME

Resolution, Which Calls for Condolence on th. Ground That Bright Was on the Union Side During the Late War.

WASHINGTON, April 1.-[Special.]-Mr. Stewart, of Nevada, introduced into the senate today a resolution which caused a good eal of comment. It was in regard to the leath of John Bright. It spoke in euology of the deceased's character and of the regret of the senate in hearing of his death, and also referred in grateful terms to the sympathy which Bright evinced

TOWARDS THE UNION SIDE during the late war. Several members of the senate said that the resolution, while anobjectionable in its general terms, dealt with a subject with which the United States senate has really nothing to do. It is of a foreign character entirely, and the policy of the United States is to keep its hands off such

THE HEER LASKA INCIDENT was recalled. Herr Laska was a member of the German richstag. He was a liberal and opposed to the policy of Bismarck. He visited this country and made many friends. He died suddenly in New York city. A resolution in regard to his death and character was introduced into the house of representatives and passed. It was sent to the American minister at Berlin, to be communicated by him to the German government. This was done, and the rejution was promptly returned to our representative at Berlin by Bismarck, with the practically bluff statement that it was none of our business to be passing resolutions about a German citizen. Bismarck's action created considerable excitement, but the United States could do nothing at all about it, and had to take the dose handed over to them.

REMEMBERING THIS INCIDENT, objection was made to the consideration of the Bright resolution today in the senate, and it went over until tomorrow. It is hardly probable that it will be pushed, or, if it is, that it

MAY GO TO CONSTANTINOPLE.

A Place Which General Longstreet May Fill WASAINGTON, April 1 .- [Special.] - With the belief that General Resecrans will not be asked to resign from the office of registar of the treasury for some while, if at all, there was a report at the state department today that General Longstreet would, within a short time, be named as minister to Constantinople. Secretary Blaine said tonight to THE Con-STITUTION correspondent that there was no doubt, whatever, that General Longstreet would, in the near future, be handsomely recognized, but what place he would be assigned to the "Plumed Knight" would not say, though asked as to Constantinople.

THE PLUM PUDDING.

Nominations Sent to the Senate Yesterday ... Confirmations. Washington, April 1 .-- The president sent the following nominations to the senate today:

James M. Huston, ol Indiana, to be treasarer of the United States; Ellis H. Roberts, of New York, to be assistant treasurer of the United States at New York; William F. Wharton, of Massachusetts, assistant secretary of state; George H. Shields, of Missouri, assistant attorney-general, vice Zech Montgomery, resigned; Captain George B. White, United States navy, to be chief of the bureau of yards and docks in the department of the navy to fill a vacancy; L. Bradford Prince, of Santa Fe, N. M., to be governor of New Mexico; Louis A. Walker, of Helena, Mont., to be secretary of Montana. The senate this afternoon confirmed the following nominations: L. Wolfly, to be governor of Arizona; Louis A. Walker, to be secretary of Montana; James W. Huston, of a, to be treasurer of the United States Ellis H. Roberts, of New York, to be assistant treasurer at New York city; Edwin H. Terrill, of Texas, to be minister to Belgium; J. T. Abbott, to be minister to the United States of Columbia; and numbers of postmasters, among them H. J. Cooper, at Tampa, Fla.

While I admit that in considering questions international relations, there may be, d frequently are, times when the late should sit with closed doors, on account of great public interest. I can conceive of account of great public interest. I can conceive of no freason why we should close our doors when we are asked to pass on the qualifications of men nominated for public office. I do not desire to conceal from the public any action of mine in reference to such matters. On the contrary, I am exceedingly anxions that when I exercise a constitutional and senatorial duty here, I may execute it.

I believe that the time has come when public sentiment will not tolerate the closing of our doors on mere questions of confirmation. I believe that the practice is one of confirmation. I believe that the practice is one of the agencies that is calculated to bring the American senate into disrepute and into contempt; for the people will believe under charges that are made day by day, that we are afraid to express our views in public) that there is some truth in them. News aper men, with all their zeal, must find some reason for our o'nduct, and very frequently they put in our mouths things we never have said and never have thought, While there may be good reasons, a nd strong reasons for the rejection of a candidate, the public is not aware of these reasons which it has the right to know. A LIVELY DISCUSSION

Over the Appointment of Delegates to the Congress of American Nations. WASHINGTON, April 1 .- Quite a discussion was had in the senate today upon the nomination of delegates to the congress of American nations, to be held in this city next fall. There was objection to them by the democrats on the ground that the commission was almost unanimously republican in politics, and that if their report was to have the weight before the country and with congress, it ought to have, there should be a more equitable di-vision between the two parties.

Senator Sherman, chairman of the foreign relations committee, which had recommended the confirmation of the list, stated that three of the list, Whyte, of Maryland, Trescott, of South Carolina, and Hanson, of Georgia, were democrats. The minority senators, however, insisted

Senator Sherman-Well, Mr. Hanson was ecommended by a senator from Georgia as a good democrat—a protection democrat.

To this specific statement there was no Mr. Frye criticised the list of appointments, aying that so far as he knew, with a single xception, none of the delegates named ought to have been appointed. He had been deeply interested in this subject of a congress of Americannations, and had called at the state department and white house to urge the selec-tion of delegates familiar with the subjects to be discussed, but at neither place had he been asked any questions, and accordingly had made no individual recommendations. HOAR INDORSES COOLEDGE.

Mr. Hoar eulogized T. Jefferson Cooledge, of Massachusetts, a delegate, as a man of ability, an author of note-"And yet," interjected Mr. Frye, "no more fit for the place on the delegation than the senator (Hoar) himself." Continuing, he said there could be no objection to the persons selected on the score of ability. They were simply not acquainted with the subject in hand, or were not in sympathy with some of the objects which is desired to accomplish. He said that William Pinckney Whyte was opposed to paying subsidies to ocean steamship lines, being interested in the operations of clipper ships trading with South American countries, a statement which Senator Gorman is said to have con-

THE CONFEDERATES' HOME. The Old Texas Capitol Leased For Ten

Years. New York, April 1.—Major J. H. Stewart member of the board of directors of the National Confederate Soldiers' home, at Austin, Texas, now in this city in the interest of the home, is in receipt of a telegram from the president of the board of directors, at Austin, stating that the Texas legislature had just passed a bill leasing the old capitol building at Austin for ten years, at five dollars per annum to the board of directors, and that an annual revenue in rentals will thus be derived of fifteen hundred dollars for the home. Under the state constitution the legislature cannot appropriate money for the purpose, and the most it could do was to lease out the old capitol building to the directors of the home. dajor Stewart says that this income will maintain fifteen inmates annually, as it costs about $8 per month per capita.

Up to this date about $1,500 has been sent to the treasurer, Cahuncey M. Depew, for the

TO SAIL FOR SAMOA

AND TAKE THE PLACE OF THE ILL-FATED SHIPS.

HURRYING WORK AT THE NAVY YARDS

Where the Vessels of the Navy Are At Pres ent-The Adams and the Charleston Getting in Readiness, Etc.

WASHINGTON, April 1 .- The navy department is making every effort to secure an ade quate representation at Samoa. Orders were ent out today to have the Richmond, Alert and Adams sent to Apia at the earliest practical moment. The Alert is at Honolula, all ready to sail when she coals, and can reach Samoa in a month or forty days.

The Richmond is at present in river Rio De La Plata, on the east coast of South America, and must go around Cape Horn. The Adams is under repair at Mare island, California navyyard, and ten days or two weeks will serve to complete the repairs, and after a few days additional is consumed in taking in stores and coals, she may sail on her voyage, which will take about a month.

The Yantic, now at Brooklyn, will be ready to sail on the 10th instant, probably to relieve the Richmond. FITTING OUT THE ADAMS. Washington, April 1.—The detail for the Adams was almost completed this afternoon. She will be under direction of Commander Edwin T. Woodward. Other line officers ordered to the Adams are: Lieutenant Com-mander J. J. Hunker, Lieutenant William H. Behler, Herbert Winslow, Hanson R. Tylor and J. C. Burnett, and Ensign William J. Maxwell. Passed Assistant Surgeon Emelyn H. Marsteller will be medical officer, and Chief Engineer Alsalom Kirby engineer in charge. The paymaster and assistant engin-cers have not yet been selected. There will be no new orders in regard to Samoan affhirs given to the commanders of the vessels. miral Kimberly will remain at Apia, and will continue in command of the squadron. He has instructions issued to him before his departure, and the situation has not changed since then. The admiral has considerable discretion vested in him, and may, to a considerable extent, exercise his own judgment in regard to what shall be done. Should anything occur to render new instructions advisable, they can be prepared and sent to Samoa long before war vessele get there. The things now needed there is ships, not instructions. It is not impossible that the Samoan conference will have met and settled the entanglement between the United States and Germany before our vessels reach Samoa, and any new orders sent to Admiral Kimberly will doubtless largely be governed by the proceedings of the conference.

HURRYING UP THE CHARLESTON.

San Francisco, April 1.—Renewed instruc tions have been sent to San Francisco to hurry forward the preparation of the Charleston, and every effort will be made to get her guns and carriages trasported over-land at the earliest possible moment. The guns are ready at the proving ground at Annapolis, and the carriages are about ready at the Washington navy yard.

Mr. Scott, contractor for building the Charleston, was at the white house today in company with Senator Stanford, and they had a private interview with the president. SYMPATHY FROM THE ENGLISH.

A graceful tribute from English naval offiers was contained in the following cable received by Secretary Tracy, when he returned to Washington this morning:

GIBRALTAR, March 3.—To the Secre ary of the Navy, Washington: The officers of the English channel fleet sympathize with the American navy on the terrible loss of life from wreeks at Samo To this message the following reply was made:

Washington, April 1.—Admiral Commanding Her ajesty's Channel Fleet, Gibraltar: Accept for your self and officers of your command my grateful acknowledgment, in behalf of the United States navy, for your message of sympathy and good will occasioned by the recent disaster at Samoa. . TRACY, Secretary of Navy.

PAY FOR THE MURCHISON LETTER. The Public Printer to Come From California

-Other Gossip.
Washington, April 1.—President Harrison as sent in about 350 nominations since the oth of March, all of which, with very few exceptions, have been reported from committees, and will have been confirmed before adjournment. Of the offices yet to be filled the most important are commissioner of the general land office and public printer. It is believed that they will be filled within a few days. Editor Osborne, of the Los Angeles Evening Express, is believed to be the man selected for public printer, but no satisfactory guess can be made as to the land commissioner. It is the general opinion that W. M. Meredith, of Chicago, who was supposed to be the coming man for public printer, will succeed E. O. Graves as superintendeni of the bureau of engraving and printing. Most of the senators will gladly welcome respite from public cares for a season, having been in practically continuous sessions since December 4, 1887, and will take the earliest pportunity to leave the city.

Senator Edmunds, who went south for his health two weeks ago, has returned, feeling better, and was in his seat today. Three Month's Liabilities NEW YORK, April 1 .- The failures for the first quarter of 1889, as reported by the R. G. The liabilities for the first quarter of 1889 are $42,786,000, as against $38,834,000 for the first quarter of 1888. The failures in Canada numbered 525 for the first quarter of 1889, with liabilities of $4,862,000, while those in the first quarter of 1888 were 529, with liabilities of $5,020,000.

It Sold to the Trust.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. April 1.—It is stated hat the American refinery was formally sold to the Eastern Sugar trust today. The re-inery was transferred to the trust one year ago, reserving trust certificates in payment. Suit was afterward commenced to annul the charter of the company for joining the trust, and some of the stockholders objected to the transfer and as result it is stated that the refinery today was bought by the trust.

Sales of Tobacco.

DANVILLE, Va., April 1.—The sales of leaf bacco in this market in March were 3,016,-459 pounds, an increase of half a million pounds over last March. Sales since the beginning of the tobacco year were 12,405,600 pounds, a decrease of 5,000,000 pounds; The sale of stamps for manufactured tobacco for March shows an increase of $18,250 over March of last year.

The Furnace Changes Hands.

GADSDEN, Ala., April. 1.—[Special.]—The new one hundred and twenty ton furnace passed into hands of eastern capitalists today. A Boston syndicate closed a trade Monday for thirty thousand aeros of timber and ore lands, and will begin the immediate erection of an extensive wooden with the factory. and tool factory. Gadsden hotels have over forty capitalists in them touight. A two hundred thousand dollar cotten factory is being negotiated for.

IDLE JACK PLANES. Carpenters of St. Louis Out on Strike-Cause of the Trouble. St. Louis, April 1 .- About 1,200 of the 2,000 carpenters in this city went on a strike this morning. The causes leading up to this action are the demands of the men for an eight hour day and forty cents per hour as standard wages. The bosses seem to have generally conceded the eight hour day but are divided about the wages, many of them being unwilling to give more than thirty cents per hour. The fact is the bosses persistenly ig-nore the Brotherhood of Carpenters, and they say they are determined to have recognition as an organization. W. H. Kitver, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, has been in the city several weeks and has been active in working up the move-ment. He will take charge of the strike. The strikers met at Central Turner hall this morning and appointed committees to look after the interests of the strikers. The men are firm in their position, and as the boss carpenters decline to recognize the demands of their former employes, a bitter struggle is probable. Work on a large number of buildings has been suspended, and there is much solicitude as to the outcome of the trouble. STRIKES IN NEW YORK.

The Coopers' Proposition-The Framers Out on Strike.

New York, Abril 1.—Today the Framers' union submitted its agreement to employers in this city for an equalization of wages here, in Brooklyn and Jersey city—an agreement binding the employers to pay forty cents per hour for day work and double price for over-time and Sunday work. This was submitted to those employers who had not already signed the agreement and is to be binding until May, 1st. About 25 of the largest shops have given in, but in some shops the proposition was refused and about 150 men went out. Reports from six shops showed that the men Lad succeeded in getting their demands. The strikers are confident of success, as this is the busy

The German Painters union started their demand for a uniform rate of $3.50 for nine hours work. Of 1,000 members of the union about 400 are now getting that figure. When the demand was made today about twenty-employers refused the increase and their men went out on a strike. About 180 men were reported out at near any work work wested to ported out at noon and more were expected to

THROUGH A BURNING BRIDGE. A Baltimore and Ohio Freight Train Meets

With an Accident. WHERLING, W. Va., April 1.—As freight train No. 88 on the Baltimore and Ohio main-line reached the bridge over Hart's creek, eighty miles east of this city, this morning, Engineer Kussack noticed that the bridge was burning. It was too late to check the train and he and his fireman, with one brakeman, saved themselves by jumping. The next instant the locomotive broke through the bridge, which was weakened by the fire, and, followed by fourteen cars, fell into the creek bed; where burning timbers from the bridge set fire to the cars and they were burned. The caboose did not leave the track and all the crew escaped, though two tramps stealing a ride went down with the week and were burned. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been caused by the fall of cinders.

A BIG FRUIT TRUST

Which Proposes to Locate in Bir. mingham. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 1.-[Special.]--A mmittee representing the American Packers and Prservers association, which is simply a trust, was in the city looking for a location for a factory. The principal fruit packing and preserving firms of the country have organized a trust which they call the American Packers and Preserving association. The as-sociation has decided to locate a large factory and office in the south, and a committee was offered liberal inducements here, and the committee agreed to report to the association in favor of this city. The association meets in Chicago April 15th to select the location for their southern branch. An Exciting Contest Expected LONDON, April 1.—The eldest son of John Bright, who is a liberal unionist, will contest

JOHN ROYALS SHOT.

Two Colored Men Take Out Their Revenge on Him.

Columbus, Ga., April 1.—[Special.]—John Royals, a colored employe in Berry's brickard, was deliberately shot in the left side of royals, a corred capitors in the left side of the neck by Join Porter, another negro, yesterday morning, while both were standing quite close to each other in the yard. Royals was seen after the occurrence by a reporter. His statement was as follows:

"I was standing in the yard talking to three girls when John Porter and John Ball came toward us. Each of the men had his right hand in his pocket as if holding something—a pistol, f thought. I suspected they were about to attack me. When they came quite close to me Porter halted to my left and Ball stood in front of me. I continued talking to the girls, at the same time keeping an eye on Porter. Suddenly the latter pulled a pistol from his pocket and fired square at me. The full load of shot lodging in the left side of my neck. After shooting at me, Porter dashed off as fast as he could towards the hottom, where as fast as he could towards the bottom, where he lives. Ball remained where he was stand-

When Royals was asked what reason he had When Royals was asked what reason he had to suspect that the pair were going to attack him, he replied that himself and Porter had some difficulty last winter, during which hot words words were excharged. Porter finally walked away after making the remark: "I'll got even with you yet." After the shooting, Royals walked to the store of Dr. Butts on Fifth avenue, where some of the shot were extracted. His wounds are not dangerous.

James C. Calhoun Suddenly Becomes In-

Dalton, Ga., April 1.—[Special.]—James C. Calhoun, a tinner, prominent in business, religious and social circles, attempted to kill his family and himself yesterday. He procured a hatchet and a bottle of muriatic acid and zinc. He attacked his wife, striking her three hlows about the head and stores with three blows about the head and shoulders with the hatchet. He then struck his invalid daugh-ter, cutting off her ear. He started for his little boy, but the latter escaped. Taking the knife he cut his throat, and swallowed an ounce and a half of muriatic acid and zinc. Calhoun and his wife will probably die. The daughter will recover. It is supposed that he had suddenl gone insane over financial mat-

THE NORMAL INSTITUTES Which Are to to Be Held in Every County in North Carolina. RALEIGH, N. C., April 1.-[Special.]-Major

Finger, state superintendent of public instruction, was interviewed today in regard to the new plan for holding county institutes. He has perfected a plan to carry out the act of the last legislature, which abolished all the white normal schools, and provides that the sum set apart for them shall be expended for teachers' institutes. Major Finger says that these in institutes. Major Finger says that these in stitutes will begin July 1st next, and that in a year from that date they will have been held in each of the ninety-fix counties of the state for a term of at least one yeek each. They will cost ten thousand dollars, of which the counties will pay half. The state appropriates four thousand, and a thousand comes from the Peabody fund. Only North Carolina teachers will be employed to conduct these institute. It is a very important educational movement.

Our family physician, a skilful man and Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Two Interesting Incidents.

The St. Albans Messenger, Vermont, says: At the recent meeting of the National General Passenger and Ticket Agents' association in New York, two incidents occurred that are worthy of more than a passing notice. Among those present was Mr. C. P. Leland, now auditor of the Lake was Mr. C. P. Leiand, now addition of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway, who read the roll of those present at a meeting of the association twenty years ago, in April, 1803, when he himself was a general passenger agent and president of the association. At that meeting there president of the association. At that meeting there were forty-three representatives of as many different roads who answered to the roll call, and of those only four answered to their names. Of the remaining thirty-nine only a few were known to be living and to have transferred their enegies to other branches of business life.

and to have transferred their enegies to other branches of business life.

Another incident of the meeting was the reception of a cordial invitation from the governor of the state of Ge raja, warmly acquiesced in by the mayor and common council of Atlanta to hold the september meeting of the association in that southern city. The invitation was tendered by Mr. Alton Angler, general passenger agent of the Western and Alantic Railroad company, and was reinforced in an eloquent speech by Mr. J. C. Guriney, anditor of the same road. There was no uncertain element in Mr. Courtney's remarks; they fairly teemed with patriotism and loyalty, and abounded in fraternal feeling. They were closely listened to, and, as he finished, the appreciation of all present was manifested in ringing applause. The association unanimously accepted the invitation to go to Atlanta in the fail.

South Carolina Railroad Bonds. CHARLESTON, S. C., April 1 .- A telegram was received here today from President II, P. Tal-madge, of the South Carolina railroad, to the fol-lowing effect: "Have arranged to purchase coupons lowing effect: "Have arranged to purchase coupons first mortgage bonds. Can sell them or hold for interest as you prefer." This was sent to President Simonds, of the First National bauk, who is also director of the road. About half a million of these bonds are held in this state. Simonds says that his bank will purchase the April coupons in question at a small discount. It is understood that the Contral Trust company, of New York, are purchasing the coupons under an arrangement made with the directors of the South Carolina-railroad last week. There seems no doubt that the earnings of the railroad will pay these coupons in full.

Work on the Georgia Southern and Florida.

Work on the Georgia Southern and Florida THOMASVILLE, Ga., April 1.—[Special.]—Mr. H. M. Mr. Coachman said the road was ready for the rails eight miles beyond Valdosta, and would certainly be brift through sixty-three miles to Lake City, Fla., by July 4th, according to contract. Fifteen miles are graded and delivered before work begins on the next fifteen miles. The first fifteen miles ection will be turned lover by May Lith. There are now six hundred work by May Lith. There are now six hundred was hands at work on the road and two hundred more will be added. The impression levels with the Georgia Southern and Florida people that Mr. Plant does not object to their reaching Lake City as he owns the Lake City and Fort White road which will be greatly benefitted benefitted by the new road. They will probably meet with serious opposition from Mr. Plant should they attempt to build on from Lake City to Palatka as per original design.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC has more friends among the ladies than any other class. Its effect is wonderful on those who are broken down in health.

Swift's Specific has cured me of a malignant break-Swift's Specific has cared me of a malignant breaking out on my leg, which caused intolerable pain. It was called Eczema by the doctors—four of whom treated me with no relief. I candidly confess that I owe my present good health to S. S. S., which in my estimation is invaluable as a blood remedy.

MISS JULIA DEWITT,
2227 N. 10th St., St. Louis, Mo.

I was the victim of the worst Catarrh that I ever heard of. I was entirely deaf in one car, and all the inside of my nose, including part of the bone, sloughed off. No treatment benefitted me, and physicians said I would never be any better. I took S. S. as a last resort, and it has entirely cured me. I have been well four years, and no sign of return of the dreadful disease. Mrs. Josephine Doublet. Due West, S. C.

I wish to preclaim to the world what S. S. has done for me. For the past ten years I have been troubled with dreadful eruptions on my face, caused by ivy poison. I was under the treatment of a number of physicians, but obtained no relief. I tried the best "blood purifiers" in 'no market, but without avail. I had given up in despair, thinking I could not be cured; but happening to read the Detroit Journal, I noticed S. S. S. advertised and red Mrs. Bradley's testimonial. I thought I would try this remedy. I have taken eight bottles, and there is not a spot on my face. It has also cured mo of chronic catarth. I have never enjoyed better health than at present. I feel like a new person. I cannot find words to express my appreciation of its merits, and the gratitude I feel for the glad tidings that came to me through the reading of that advertisement. Wishing you every success, I am Yours truly, Josie Owen, Montpeller, O.

Swift's Specific is entirely a vegetable remedy, and is the only medicine which permanently cures Scrofula, Blood Humors, Cancer and Contagious Blood Poison. Send for book on Blood and Skin Diseases, mailed THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO. Drawer 3 ATLANTA, GA.

ALBANY REVIEWED.

ONE OF THE LEADING CITIES OF BOUTHWEST GEORGIA.

Surrounding Country-What the People Are Doing and Thinking About. ALBANY, Ga., April 1 .- [Special.]-The artesian city is on a boom. Its people have spent much money in advertising their pretty city and are now reaping its benefits. The atention of northern people has been attracted, and they are coming to see what is really here. Almost without exception they have been pleased with the country and have invested. Its climate is delightful, the surrounding country rich, and its people are determined to make it a great city. It already contains a population of about six thousand and is increasing rapidly. It is one of the prettiest small cities in the south. Its streets are broad and well shaded, while its residences in beauty are not excelled.

Albany in every respect is distinctively southern. Its people are of that type which combine culture, refinement and hospitality, and at the same time they are progressive and enterprising. As a business city it has no peer in proportion to its population. There are between one hundred and fifty and two hundred business houses here, occupying the central portion of the city. The stores are not of that architectural design seen in most new cities and towns, but are the old fashioned, solid and substantial structures, which gives the city astrictly business appear-ance. These houses do a businesss that will aggregate nearly five million dollars annually. Many of them send out drummers, and cons quently Albany controls the trade of this en-

The business of the city is on a solid financial basis, which is evidenced by the fact that there has not been a failure here in many years. In fact, every house in Albany is doing a good business, and the merchants are gradually growing wealthy. They, however, do not heard up their money, as is the case in many other small places, but immediately put it in circulation by developing the city.

There are now many industries in Albany, and they are being added to annually. There are two cotton compresses here, two large brick yards, a planing mill, a guano factory a foundry and iron works, a bucket and tub factory, wooden ware variety works, a new electric light plant, lighting the streets of the city and the stores and the residences with the incandescent light, and above all ten arte-sian wells that supply the city with the purest

Indeed Albany is called the artesian city, and its waters have a world wide reputation for their purity and medicinal properties. The water from the city well, lecated in the center of Broad street, is pronounced a certain cure for all kidney complaints and the cures it has already effected are pronounced wonderful. The other nine wells are owned by citizens who run pipes from them all over the city and supply the residences at the rate of two lollars per month each.
Colonel Nelson Tift, the founder of Albany and one of the wealthiest men in southwest Georgia, has a well in his lot that throws the water about thirty feet above the surface of the earth. He uses the surplus water from a large tank to turn an overshot wheel which runs machinery for sawing wood, cutting forage and for other purposes, while the wash from this supplies a beautiful fish pond filled with thousands of perch and carp. But the outlet to this pond is the most wonderful sight in the city. In digging an ordinary well a subterrancan stream twenty feet below the surface was struck, and the waters from the pond are now turned into this. You can stand at the mouth of this well and hear the waters rushing at a fearful rate right through the very howels of the earth. No other opening has ever been discovered, but it evidently empties into the Flint river, as when that stream rises he water rises in the opening to the subterranean creek or river. It forms a very convenient outlet to the artificial pond.

But as to the business of Albany: There are four lines of railroads centering here which give Albany direct communication with Savannah, Brunswick, all Florida points, Atlanta and Macon, and with the coal fields of Alabama. Then there is another road now tids point which will give direct communica-tion with Kansas City and the west, and the people expect direct connections with Augusta in the near future.

cotton receipts of Albany will,

in the near future.

The cotton receipts of Albany will, this year, reach fifty thousand bales, and at least sixty-five thousand are expected next year. In fact Albany, as its cotton receipts show, is the centre of possibly the most productive lands in Georgia, and the beauty of it is that very little of the lands are mortgaged.

Albany has one great advantage over most small southern cities, and that is it has ample banking capital. It has four banks, each doing an excellent business and all making money. Two are regularly incorporated banks of $50,000 capital each—the First National and the Commercial. Colonel John A. Davis and Colonel T. M. Carter, their respective presidents, are enterprising business men, and to their efforts in a large measure is due the success of Albany as a business center. Then there are two private banks, the individual responsibility of each tirm being fully $200,000. They are Hobbs & Tucker and Lewis Bros.

The farmers in this eduntry are a stirling and intellectual set of them. They diversify their crops and the majority of them are making money.

There is a great quantity of fruit raised in their crops and the majority of them are making money.

There is a great quantity of fruit raised in this neighborhood. Young LeConte pear orchards are everywhere, and it is possibly the most productive watermelon section in the south. The city afone ships one million melons annually, the fevenue from which amounts to a very large sum. There are also many pecan trees around the city, and they have been so preductive in the past that millions of young trees have recently been set out everywhere. The fig is also raised in profusion here, and it is the home of the peach. The farmers are also becoming largely interested in stock raising, and already there are a dozen or more stock farms in the country. The grasses grown here are said to be as good as those of Kentucky, and the horses, mules and cattle raised in this country equal the blue grass stock.

The people of Albany proper are alive to

The people of Albany proper are alive to their advantages and will improve them. They realize that their climate and the surroundrealize that their climate and the surrounding country equals any in south Georgia or Florida, and that it can be made a great winter resort with the proper hotel accommodations. There are two lotels here now—the Artesian and the Mayo. The former is a splendidly conducted house, kept by a Massachusetts man, but is too small to be used as a winter resort hotel. The latter is in a similar condition. But the people of Albany are determined to have an hundred thousand doilar hotel, and already are ongaged in forming a stock company to construct it. With such a hotel, the climate and pretty country surrounding, Albany is destined to equal any of the scuthern winter resorts.

A few northern people c me here every winter, and many of them have been so captivated with the place and have such confidence in its future that; they have invested largely. Some have invested for speculative purposes, while others have made permanent investments. Mr. Welcome Hyde, of Wisconsin, recently purchased twenty thousand acres of land near here. Dr. W. A. D. mean, of New York, who is here conducting the Chantauqua, has just purchased a farm of four thousand acres on which he is at present creeting some fifty or more small houses. He expects next winter and all future winters to bring at least fifty northern families here to occupy these residences during the winter season. He is delighted with the city and thinks it the very best place in the south for a winter resort. Again, two Kansans, Dr. Kneiland and Dr. Simson, are here now for the purpose of buying large tracts of land in this section of the state, upon which to colonize Swedish and other emigrants. There is already in the low other emigrants. There is already in the low-er counties of the state quite a colony located, and they are said to be improving the lands and making money on small farms.

There is also a strong probability of Mr. Edison removing his laboratory and experi-mental station from Florida to this point. Mr. Edison, it seems, fears yellow fever in Florida and is auxious to remove his station to a more healthy climate where his assistants can re-main at all times without design of sighness.

healthy climate where his assistants can remain at all times without danger of sickness. Albany is noted for its pure air and good water, and therefore, in ail probability, it will not be many months before Mr. Edison will have his station removed to this point.

Colonel Tift, the Jounder of Albany, and the man whose efforts have made it what it is today, one of the leading business centers of southwest Georgia, says the city is growing rapidly, and within a few years it is destined to be, not only the leading city of southwest Georgia, but one of the leading cities of the state. He says the lands are today as rich as they were twenty-five years ago, when this section was the granery of the confederacy. The farmers, he says, are beginning to realize the value of this section as the greatest fruit producing country in the ning to realize the value of this section as the greatest fruit producing country in the world and are planting thousands of acres in peaches, pears, pecans and grapes. He thinks within a few years it will be the greatest fruit producing country in the south. The young men of Albany are the most progressive and energetic to be found anywhere. They are forging ahead in the business pursuits and ere many years the city will be entirely in their hands. Then Albany will be on their lands. Then Albany will boom ahead even more rapidly that at present. Already some of the leading business houses are owned by young men, and these particular business while some of the type trightest and business houses are doing the great amount or business; while some of the very brightest and ablest lawyers are among the recent graduates from the university. John D. Pope, the county solicitor, and Will Wooten, the city attorney, are both young men who have graduated since 1380, but nevertheless they are holding their own with credit among the older lights. lights.

The largest strictly dry goods business in the city is conducted by Mr. R. L. Jones, also a recent university graduate, and a man not yet thirty. Many other business houses are either owned or managed by young men, among them being Mr. W. E. Mitchell, manager of the Hilsman & Ager company; Mr. A. W. Tucker, of the banking house of Hobbs & Tucker; Mr. Tom Clayton, manager of the Southern Express company; Mr. Frank Lehman, Mr. H. Robinson and Mr. Tom Woolfolk, of Tift & Co. With young men in the lead as they are here, Albany is certain to be a great city in a short time.

SPIRITS OF TURPENTINE.

A New Process for the Manipulation [of Turpentine Criticised.

Savannah, Ga., April 1.—[Special.]—A meeting of the board of trade is called for tomorrow morning to consider the rumored attempt to introduce a process for the manipulation of spirits of turpentine. Several of the naval stores' factors have received letters from naval stores' factors have received letters from their correspondents informing them of the efforts of a Mr. Underwood to sell a patent process, by which kerosene mixed with crude spirits, resulting in increased production of the article after distillation. The factors here are resolved to suppress this attempt at manipulation once for all. If the process is introduced, it will result in endless damage and litigation, reclamation and damage, such will be frequent. Besides its use in paints, oils and varnishes, spirits are much employed in drugs after second distillation. It is not easy to say after second distillation. It is not easy to say how far the injury will extend if the process gets into common use. Mr. Underwood is a North Carolinian, and is at present in the city.

Fighting the Underbilling of Freights. SAVANNAH, Ga., April 1 .- [Special.]-Savanual's wholesale grain, grocery and provision merchants intend to petition the fegislature to pass an act, similar in nature to the one recently passed by congress, making it an offense for transportation companies to give, or shippers to seek or to obtain, lower rates than the require rates established on the line of the regular rates established on the line of transportation. This is intended to kill the practice of underbilling.

The Sewing Machine Company Defeated. Itawreenceville, Ga., April 1.—[Special.]—On last Monday Mr. J. E. Robinson, of Norcross, was arraigned before Esquire Abraham Martin on the charge of larceny after trust delegated, the Singer Sewing Machine company being the prosecutor. They charged that he used and did not account to them for some cortsus proceeds of the sale of sewing machines he used and did not account to them for some certain proceeds of the sale of sewing machines entrusted to him by it. The defense was he used the money in defraying the expenses of the company, for himself and team and for his own labor in going out of his licensed territory, collecting under orders from the company, and the court, after investigating, discharged the defounder.

LARGE SALES OF REAL ESTATE YES-TERDAY.

A Merchant Summoned Before the United States Court-At the Postoffice-Other Macon Items.

Macon, Ga., April 1.—[Special.]—The brothers, Edward and William Wolff, after having been in business together a good many years, and owning property conjointly, decided to sever and sell all their real estate in Macon. The sale/occurred today and brought good figures. In some instances the property brought strong and most excellent prices. Althors it Edward Wolff boneth $55 (60) worth though Edward Wolff bought $55,000 worth of the property, and William Wolff bought $26,025 worth, the sales were straight, but the Wolff brothers desired to own the property and they outbid any one else. The total sales amounted to $83,775. Some of the property brought much higher prices than the Wolff brothers paid for it a few years ago. One case in point is the old Callaway house and lot, corner Fourth and Cherry streets, which they bought about three years ago at $3,000, and today it sold for $7,300. though Edward Wolff bought $55,090 worth of the property, and William Wolff bought

. A HORRIBLE FIND. Dogs Had Devoured the Limbs of the New

Born Child

Macon, Ga., April 1.—[Special.]—This morning the attention of passers near Windsor's hill was attracted by dogs devouring something, and on closer inspection, it was found to be the body of a white infant. Both learn heid heavy action of the knear and one found to be the body of a white infant. Both legs had been eaten off to the knee and one arm was also gone. How long the child had been there is not known. Fresh buggy tracks were seen leading to and from the place, so the suspicion is that the body was carried there sometime last night, and the dogs dragged it out of the little hole in which it had been placed, a slight distance beneath the surface of the ground.

The coroner was notified, and he went to the scene to hold an inquest, but owing to certain developments the inquest was postponed until Saturday. There is a possibility that by so doing the mother of the child will be traced.

The discovery of the baby today revealed a remarkable state of affairs. It was learned that in a certain territory there were three unmarried women who were victims of man's deception, and who were seeking to destroy their unnatural offspring, and two of the women had come to Macon from distant points for that purpose.

Must Come Into Court and Show Cause, So Says Judge Speer.

Macon, Ga., April 1.—[Special.]—The closing up of Merchant Adolph Joseph, of Milledgeville, by United States Marshal Corbett, on last Saturday, was a great surprise to Mr. Joseph, as well as to his friends. Joseph was closed up by John Shillito, of Cincinnati, who filed a bill of injunction and re-ceiver, claiming that Joseph was in-debted to them in the sum of seven thousand dollars for goods bought. They further claim that Mr. Joseph has threatened to make an assignment and is insolvent.
Judge Speer, of the United States court, granted a temporary injunction and appointed the marshal receiver.
The court has also issued an order for Mr.

Joseph to show cause on April 5th why the injunction should not be granted and a permanent receiver appointed. Mr. Joseph arrived in Macon last night, and has been in the city all day. He hopes to settle his affairs.

Houses of Ill Repute Are Visited by Ladies

Bearing the Cross.

Macon, Ga., April 1.—[Special.]—There is a great moving of the Holy Spirit in Macon, and many are striving to redeem the fallen and bring them into the fold. A party of ladies, of age and lofty motives, have concluded to make an earnest effort to save the women who have abandoned the paths of virtue to follow a life of shame and evil. For several days visits have been made by these religious ladies to the houses of ill-repute, and have met with considerable encouragement. Several of the women were deeply penitent and said they had been driven to their wicked life by poverty. One well known character said she had long been anxious to lead a better life, but nothing but starvation stared her in the face if she left her present life. She said if a situation some where was guaranteed her, that she would accept it. An effort will be made in her behalf.

No theory as to the cause of the accident was advanced at the time, but detectives were employed who went to work, without a clew, and how well they have succeeded with their work a Harris county jury will say in the future.

THE CLEW FOUND.

A negro named Charles Ellison was arrested on suspicion, tried by a magistrate, and turned loose for want of evidence on Friday. made his appearance here, representing himself as an agent of a Chicago book concern, and said he was getting up a biographical book of all the prominent men of Georgia and Florida. He would approach a gentleman, get memoranda of his parentage, birth, marriage, etc., and then show him a little note for $15, stating that if he would high that the sketch would come out in the book and he would be entitled to a copy. Morrison was accompanied by his wife, and while he was traveling around on his biographical souvenir hunt, she was cutting up

The termination of this was an arrest of the "other man" in Fort Gaines, a sensational court trial, which, in turn, brought about the arrest of Morrison, and his taking French leave of his friends and customers. Such conduct, of course, cast a shadow over his project and most those whom he had written up for his book in this place countermanded their orders. They heard nothing more of the matter, and of course did not expect a copy of the book, notwithstanding their notes were out for the price, lifteen expect a copy of the book, notwithstanding

THE FUN GREW CONSIDERABLY to the outsiders who had caught on and were watching the proceedings with much interest. Some, after subscribing, ordered that the concern not publish any sketch of themselves. These are perhaps worse left than the others. They have the music to pay for and yet get none of the pleasures of dancing. It is really amusing to see a sketch of a man who is not known ten miles from home published along side of some of the most distinguished men Georgia has ever produced. The ridiculousness of this has rechably struck some with Georgia has ever produced. The ridiculous-ness of this has probably struck some with force, and this alone is calculated to produce a nauseating effect.

Boulanger's Prosecutors. The probabilities are that the persistent persecution of Boulanger by the so-called republicans will result in making him the most popular, and, therefore, the most dangerous man in France. A year ago Premier Tirard, exercising what may be termed an unwise discretion, stripped Boulanger of his sword. Eight days afterwards the Tirard ministry went to pieces, and in the course of thirty days

Boulanger was the most potent factor in French politics. In the midst of the confusion that has been rampant in the so-called republic for many months, the Tirard government, or those representing it, returned to power; and almost its first movement was an attempt to suppress the League of Patriots, with which Boulanger was identified. The government has now determined to proceed against Boulanger himself for conspiracy against the republic. These things, it may be said, are symptoms that bear no relation to true republicanism, and the people of France will not tolerate them. They will tolerate Boulanger instead, and, in tolerating him, they may go further and fare worse, as the saying is. Boulanger has defied his prosecutors, and in doing this he has addressed himself to France itself, which is fond of audacity.

The defenders of the republic, it may be said, are not cutting a very pretty figure, for, in prosecuting Boulanger for conspiracy they are, in effect, arraigning every man who voted for him; and his supporters during the year, in by-elections only, have numbered one-sixth of the voting population of France.

The conclusion at which thoughtful persons will arrive is that it would be better to build up the republic itself than to make Boulanger a conspicuous victim of so-called republican methods.

What Are We Coming To?

A few weeks ago a drug clerk in New York was murdered with a hatchet by some unknown person. The circumstances pointed strongly to a young man named Krulish as the murderer, and he was arrested.

In almost any community where people are guided by common sense in the ordinary affairs of life the case would have been left. to go through the usual routine in the courts. But in New York there are many scientists and persons of culture who go in. for advanced thought and progressive methods. It occurred to these gentlemen that Krulish was too good a young man to be guilty of murder, and his denial of the charge against him and his dazed look led them to jump to the conclusion that he had been hypnotized and controlled by some one who made him an unconscious instrument in the commission of the crime. When the prisoner was asked if he had ever been hypnotized he replied in the negative. He did not believe that he had been acting under the will of another man.

This was nothing to the scientists. They had their fad, and they were going to stick to It. So they went to work, and Dr. Rockwell and Dr. Gregory Hammond made every possible effort to hypnotize the youngster. They made a complete failure, but this did not shake their conviction. They merely said that perhaps some other operator would find it an easy matter to control Krulish.

It ought to take something more than a mere suspicion that Krulish was hypnotized when he killed the drug clerk to save him. It may be that Charcot in France compelled an unconscious subject to commit a robbery, and it is true that Carpenter and Baird did wonderful things with persons who were under the hypnotic influence, but there is nothing to show that Krulish was ever brought in contact with expert hypnot-1sts until Rockwell and Hammond visited him, and their experiment was a dead

If we go into the investigation of hypnotic Influence in criminal cases, where shall we draw the line? We cannot lay it down as a general rule that the law will hold persons irresponsible for their acts when they are in a magnetized condition. Many men and women are so magnetic that they sway other people and cause them to do what is foolish and wrong. But this has never been considered a sufficient reason for acquitting a man charged with crime, and the party desiring to break a contract would stand a poor chance in court if he claimed that the personal magnetism of another had made him sign the paper.

All this business is too shadowy, too much in the air to impress sober, matter-offact people. There may be a few peculiarly gifted men and women who, by the secret exercise of their will power, force their weaker neighbors to unknowingly commit horrible crimes, but very few feel like believing such a fairy story. If there is any truth in such yarns the hypnotic subject would appear to be fully as dangerous as his hypnotic master, and the world be better off with both of them securely put out of the

The Bagging Trust and the Farmers The announcement of the managers of the jute bagging trust, to the effect that they propose to put the screws on the cottonplanters of the south again this season, has some walking cyclopædias who range from attracted the attention of the farmers of the gulf states.

The trust is so sure of its power that it has no hesitation in announcing its plans thus early in the season. And yet the probability is that the trust is less powerful now than it was last year; or, at any rate, that it is less powerful than the organization of farmers which has been growing and covering all sections of the country during the past few years.

For one thing, the announcement of the bagging trust has aroused the planters of Mississippi, and for several days recently fifty delegates, representing the Farmers' Alliance in twenty-five counties of Missis sippi, have been in session in the senate chamber in Jackson, discussing a plan to establish bagging factories in that state. These delegates passed a resolution to build a baggine factory in Jackson, and the agents of the farmers have already begun the work of raising funds for this pur-

It is impossible to say how far this movement will go, or how successful it will be, but there certainly seems to be room in the south for such a movement as is now on foot in Mississippi. The only way to beat the trust is through the methods of organization, and it is to be hoped that the farmers, having had due notice of the purposes of the bagging magnates, will be able to take care of themselves the coming season.

The Rejection of Halstead. The Louisville Courier-Journal refuses to comforted over the rejection of Murat

Halstead, as minister to Germany.

It looks at the matter in a philosophic manner, and its position and that of THE Constitution are pretty much alike. We thought that Mr. Halstead should be confirmed, and we think that the course of the senate in rejecting him is very much to be regretted.

Let us look at the situation.

With two exceptions the democratic senstors were opposed to him, and voted against his confirmation. This opposition was based on sectional grounds, all the democratic senators from the south but Senators Blackburn and Gibson voting against him on the argument that Halstead's course against the south merited such rebuke. Senator Payne fought him because of his merciless treatment at Halstead's hands when the title to his seat in the senate was being considered. These influences arrayed the democrats against him, with the above exceptions.

Five republican senators joined with the democrats and succeeded in rejecting the nomination. These five senators had been made the subject of some very bitter attacks from Halstead, in the Commercial-Gazette, because they refused to join in the effort of their republican colleagues to demand an investigation of Payne's seat in the senate. and they took this opportunity to get even. Of this the Courier Journal says in double leads: In Ohio the controversy was one of equal import ance and acrimony, and Mr. Halstead threw all the combative elements of his essentially combative character into the fight, and especially against the obdurate republican senators. From his party standpoint he was entirely in the right. He did what any other brave and honest journalist would have done and should have done under the circumstances. That he may have been too rough in his methods of attack is beside the question. He had the truth of it in his premises, was sincere and upright in his purposes, and a little excess of temper, more or less, does not materially affect the case. He is punished, therefore, by those of his own party whom he dared to call to account for doing his duty as a partisan journalist. The democrats of the senate have assisted these republicans of the senate to punish him, and thus a dual notice is served by both parties in the senate upon the journalism of America to the effect that whenever a senator is publicly criticised he will bide his time to get his. evenge by stabbling his critic in the back and in the

Of the action of the southern democratic senators in voting against the confirmation of Mr. Halstead the Courier Journal says: Without doubt the democrats of the senate, and earticularly the democratic senators from the southrn states, think that they are getting even with Mr. Halstead for his abuse of the south. if this were so, their position would be at o consistent and injudicious. With the fight over the confirmation of Lamar, and the ready confirmation of men's confederates to foreign posts of honor, in our mind, it lies not in our mouths to talk about sectional revenges. Such talk cannot fail to do more execution at the breach than at the muzzle, and in the long run, must recoil upon ourselves. It puts a stop to our protests against proscription and places a powerful weapon in the hands of our enemies. * * * Every forgiving action done, and every kind and generous word spoken, on occasions of trouble and trial by sectional and political antagonists, one to another, tends to heal up breaches between the people and to bind up the wounds of war, and to make the union once more a union of rymen and brothers. When Horace Greele went to Richmond to sign the bail bond of Jefferso Davis, when Lamar iaid a wreath of flowers upon the coffin of Charles Sumner, when the south ac-cepted Greeley for its Moses, when Johnson and Le-and Buckner followed the bler of Grant to the omb, steps were taken out of the morass of mis trust and strife, and toward the high and solid ground of national unification and the end of sec-

Following this Brother Watterson throws out a suggestion which, if carried out, will leave the democratic senators in the position of having swapped the devil for a witch.

We have it from very high authority that, if the ame of Governor Foraker is not sent to the senate before its adjournment the governor will be dispatched as minister to Germany very soon there-after. If this be so, the democrats of the senate will have helped the malignant republicans of that body to wreak their private revenge on Mr. Halstead only to saddle a man like Governor Foraker, who in hatred of the south double discounts any other republican in the country, on our diplomatic service. On that issue, we have an impression that gentlemen will find it as little easy to satisfy their own consciences as to explain themselves to publi pinion, which, in the end, is tolerably just in these natters, and will not give its approval to the conversion of the senate into a den of assassins. When we remember that as soon as the result of the last presidential election was known, Halstead, through his paper, declared for an open and manly course toward the south, calling hands off to the republican party, we cannot help believe that the southern senators did wrong in opposing him on sectional grounds.

Senator Colquitt and Republican P atronage We print the following card for the information of the public.

MR. HILL'S CARD. MR. HILL'S CARD.

If Mr. Bon Hill and Mr. Colquitt Carter will deny that in case Senator Colquit had secured Mr. Haight's appointment, Mr. Colquitt Carter was to be retained as clerk under Mr. Haight, The Constitution will admit that its Washington correspondent has done Senator Colquitt an injustice.

Editors Constitution:—The intervening Sabbath alone prevented a prompt reply to the above paragraph in your editorial of Sunday. The explicit graph in your editorial of Sunday. The explici card from Mr. Haight published yesterday morning covers the whole ground and but for your direct call on me I would say nothing. The statement you made that Mr. Carter was to be retained as clerk if Mr. Haight had been made United clerk if Mr. Haight had been made United States attorney is as groundless as your former charge of a "deal" with Mr Darnell. I recommended Mr. Haight as my successor because of my friendship for him and my knowledge of his peculiar fitness for the office. I never at any time said anything to him on the subject of his clerk or assistant, and if he had secured the position he would have been entirely free to have selected such assistants as he desired without the slightest suggestion from me. suggestion from me, senator Colquitt was urged by many prominent democrats to recommend Mr. Haight's appointment, and it was solely in defrence to their wishes that he did so.

MR. CARTER'S CARD.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: As the alleged beneficiary of the mythical "deal" made by Senator Colquitt, I desire to add to the cards of Mr. Hill and Mr. Halght on the subject. I cover the entire ground by stating that the charge, from beginning ar. Haight on the subject. I cover the entire ground by stating that the charge, from beginning to end, in every form, is wholly untrue. I have never spoken to Mr. Haight or any one else on the subject of his clerkship, and for the very simple reason that I never had any other idea than to retire with Mr. Hill from the office of United States attorney. I accepted the clerkship under my brother-in-law, and its labors have been pleasant in association with him; but I would not care to retain the place with any other than a relative.

I have so expressed myself concerning my retirement at all times and, therefore, cannot conceive your reason for placing me in the attitude of all kinds of political manipulations, unless for the purpose of wilful hjury. In three different places in your Saturday's paper it is positively stated that Senator Colquitt had made a deal with the republicans for the purpose of retaining me in office. The statement thus retirerated was absolutely without foundation, and if simple justice had been intended either to Senator Colquit or myself. I should have been granted an opportunity of denying it before publication. This is a previoue that is accorded. either to Senator Colquitt or myself, I should have been granted an opportunity of denying it before publication. Colquitt Carter.

The positive denials of Messrs. Hill and Carter leave us no course but to say that our Washington correspondent did Senator Colquitt an injustice in charging that he was interested in securing a place for Mr. Darnell or Mr. Haight to secure thereby a place for Mr. Colquitt Carter. It was merely a piece of political gossip sent us by a temporary correspondent who fills Mr. Barrett's place, and who had not the slightest room or suggestion for sending it, save that he considered it news. As to THE CONSTITUTION'S inquiry in regard to the connection of Mr. Hill and Mr. Carter with Mr. Haight's appointment, we should say a word more. We had the following information on which to base the inquiry: A gentleman, whose name is known to Mr. Hill, stated to us that Mr. Hill had asked him to send a telegram to Washing ton urging Mr. Haight's appointment. Th gentleman replied that he had already indorsed Mr. George Thomas. Mr. Hill, in discussing the matter, stated that he had two reasons for supporting Mr. Haight-one was his fitnessother that his appointment would provide a place for his brother-in-law, Mr Carter. This gentleman naturally assumed the place that would be thus opened to Mr. Carter was the clerkship, and so stated. Since the matter came up Mr. Hill has stated to the gentleman that he did not mention the clerkship, and, indeed, was not alluding to the clerkship, but to another place-and that Mr. Carter had not been consulted about the position that Mr. Haight's appointment would open to him. To this our informant assents.

With this we dismiss the matter, which has already had more prominence than it deserves.

The People Understand Then Motives. The following editorial from the Rockmart Slate is sent as by a gentleman who says it comes without the knowledge of the editor, but expresses the absolutely universal opinion of the people of that section. It is gratifying to us to have such expressions as this, but the people understand the motive of these assailants on THE CONSTITUTION, and, by the way, the people are making a very effective answer to them:

We are indeed sorry to see and know that it is the disposition of some of our contemporaries, and of some leading individuals, to evince animosity towards THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, the leader, and by far the ablest of all southern journals. What motive can actuate them to this hostile inclination is something inexplicable to us. In the face of this powerful fact, too lucid for contradiction, it is putting it mildly to say that this invidious treat-ment which some would exhibit toward it, is not only unwise, but as ungrateful and treacherous as well it could be. If this emanates from the fact that THE CONSTITUTION has by untiring energy and sagacious management gained wealth and world-wide fame it is still a more infamous and unwar-ranted attack than it could be had its despisers me more plausible reason for thus assailing it We hope that this error, which seems to have capand importunate class, may soon cease to manifest itself to the disgust of all fair-minded men.

Sheffield.

From the Sheffield, Ala., Enterprise.

Regarding the Preachers' Investment com pany, an explanation of the organization and pur-pose of which, taken from the Age-Herald, we publish today, it is proper to say, that while the organization is encouraged, as all others of a like nature would be, by the management of the Land company it is not desired that the ides, as the article would indicate, should obtain, that Sheffield is being "boomed" in the interest of any one particular sec or denomination. The directory of the Land com pany is made up of gentlemen who are representa-tives of almost as many different denominations as there are members of the board of directors, and while all are anxious that Sheffield should be as pre-eminent for its morality as it is certain to be for its commer-cial and manufacturing importance, yet it is not for its morality as it is certain to be for its commer cial and manufacturing importance, yet it is not expected or desired that the end shall be reached because of the offer of any especial favors to any one class to the exclusion of others. The preachers of the Methodist church saw the opportunity and embraced it. That they have done so is creditable to the good business sense and keen perceptions of the Methodist preachers and a compliment to the city in which they seek investment. The example set by the Preachers Investment company is one which might, with profit, be followed by similar organizations of preachers of other denominations. The door stands wide open and exactly the same advantages secured by the one may be obtained by Smart Alecks Fooled .- The world is filled with smart Alecks and Atlanta has her share. This was illustrated by the best joke of the day at the carshed yesterday. A negro boy passed by and tried to grind it into the floor with his number nine. He would have died in his tracks rather than be fooled by picking it up. Then three white men came alone They saw the package and walked around it as if it had been a rattle snake. They wouldn't even touch it with their feet, for fear somebody might laugh at them. The wise men passed on. The two very able colored brothers walked up to the poor little package, both kicked it at once and went on. It would take a much sharper trick than that to fool them. Oh, yes, and last of all, a little fool niger came by. He glanced at the package—then he ooked around. He walked up and took a square ook at the package, and not only picked it up but stood there and opened it. The fool nigger had more sense than all the wise men. The package ontained a dollar bill. He slipped the treasure into his pocket just as if he hadn't been made the victim of an April fool joke.

Times That Tried Men's Souls in Battles With Raging Elements in the Early Days of Atlanta, and Some Account of the Men Who Met Last Evening and Elected Officers for Another Year.

The Old Guard dies, but never surrenders, A number of the veterans of Atlanta's first olunteer fire company met at Major Mecaslin's office vesterday evening.

Among the gray-mustached survivors of the old regime was a sprinkling of younger faces and three men, Henry and Thomas Haney and Jake Emmel, wore the bugles of the paid fire department on the collars of their new uniforms.

Prominent members present: Among those present were Mr. Thomas Haney, Sr., whose son, Thomas Haney, Jr., is vice-president of the old company, and fore man of No. 1, of the paid department; and another son, Mr. Henry P. Honey, for thir teen years a member of the executive committee of the old company, and now foreman of

No. 4, paid department.

Then there was Mr. Peter Lynch, treasurer, the third man who has held that office during the thirty-eight years of existence of the company. Mr. H. Muhlenbrink was first elected, and held it until his death in 1875, when Mr. H. Kurtz was elected and held it until his death, three years ago, when Mr. Peter Lynch was elected.
Major J. H. Mecaslin presided, of course, as he has done at ever meeting since 1868, he having been president for twenty-one years. Mr. Jerry Lynch was there as foreman. He has been foreman for lo! these many years, and has never had a confestant for this honor since his first election, years and years agone. Mr. J. H. Jentzen, the secretary, who has been there for three years; Mr. William Erskine, Mr. Martin Nally, Mr. John Berkele, the central pillar of the structure; Mr. J. N. Hines, Mr. John Domini, Mr. J. K. Weaver and Mr. Charles Klasset made up the earlier arrivals. Mr. J. H. Ellsworth came in later and took an important part in the deliberations of the august body. WHAT THEY DID. One of the first reports was on badges, and a number of elegant silk badges were exhibited, The gold button on the black rosette contains a hook and ladder, with bugles crossed above a raised heimet. The badge has a pic-ture of "Blue Dick," the famous hand engine, with the words, "Atlanta Volunteer, organ ized 1851," appearing beneath a large gift figure "1," with a helmet in its center and surrounded by a hook, rope and ladder.

There are twenty eight of these badges, and each member has his name painted in gold on the reverse. They are for the use of the company on parade days, and on occasions when they are called upon to attend the funeral of a dead comrade, or entertain a visiting company. A resolution was passed that no member who was three dollars behind should receive who was three dollars behind should receive his badge until all arrears were paid; and when this is done he is to be reinstated and is to rethis is done he is to be reinstated and is to receive his badge.

Major Mecaslin is the oldest member, and the youngest member, Mr. Thomas Haney, Jr., was elected vice-president, a position that he has held four years. Mr. Jentzen was reelected secretary; Mr. Peter Lynch, treasurer; and Messrs. William Erskine, Henry Haney and John Berkele, were appointed on the finance committee, each of them having served in a similar capacity since 1866.

Their Only Possession. The only possession left the ancient company, is a lot in the cemetery set a part for the burial of the members of the company. Mr. Berkele introduced a resolution, which was passed, to have this lot enclosed and preared for, the expenses not to exceed

A committee, consisting of Messrs. John Berkele, Thomas Haney, Sr., and J. H. Ells-worth, was appointed to take charge of the improvements.

It appears that the only member buried there was Tommie Ralph, an old runner for the company, who was not a member at the time of his death; and by mistake his body was interred on that portion of the tract conceded to No. 3. The committee was instructed, n case any issue was raised, to remove Mr Rainh's body to the lot owned by is now worth at least $1,000, and not a single grave on it.

From the Alta Californi "There can be no better evidence that relig. ious conviction exists in this city," remarked Sam Jones yesterday afternoon, "than that six thousand men are gathered at this religious service. Today many a wife and mother is praying for what will transpire during this hour. I want to call your attention to the words, 'Be not deceived, God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, so shall be reap."

"No man can practice a fraud upon his ownimmorality, commenced Sam Jones. If you are a good man you know it, and if you're a bad one you are profoundly conscious of it. You cannot lead the life of a drunken, sfingy or licentious man without your neighbors becoming aware of it. If you are a generous man they know it, and if you are not they don't come fooling around. I never did go much on a fellow that didn't stand well at home.

I thank God that whenever they wanted to ge anything against Sam Jones they had to go away

"All this being true, it is the more impossible to practice a fraud upon God. It is trueism in God' universe, that, A heist or Deist, Jew or Gentile Christian or infidel, all stand together on the text.

Adam in the garden dropped one little seed of sin and it has been going on mu ing ever since. We are all going through lie with a basket of moral seed on our arm scattering it around. Every word and act is a seed that will produce in human hearts its like. Sow whisky and reap sober, industrious citizens! Sow wheat and reap potatoes! If one is true, the other s. When I sow wheat or potatoes I have use for them, but when I sow whisky and reap drunkards -what's a drunkard good for, anyway? There sn't assaloon-keeper would let one clerk for him. I only know one use you can put them to in Califor-nia, and that is to send them to the legislature. "I have never advocated high license, but when a fellow sells out to the devil, I like to see him put a good price on himself. And yet you can stop this. Do you know the majority rules? If you say the saloons must close, they will close. I'm tired of ministers praying: 'Lord, put whisky away; Lord, do this and that.' There is enough sentiment to put whisky out of California today, and if the men won't take the matter in hand, God and the good women will settle it.

"Some say, 'We don't drink whisky here, we drink wine, and we really have to, for we can't drink the water. Oh, you copper-lined old toper, is that so? And you say 'Our Savior himself made wine!' Well, my friend, he made it out of water, and when you make wine like that, I'll take six drinks a day with you.

"I went along the road far enough to know that none but infernal fools drink whisky. Now then ome of you get up on your hind feet and deny it. f you can! And if it is so, then there are 60 000 inernal fools in San Francisco today. What makes nen kill their wives? Soda water? There isn't a drinking man in this audience but that agrees with me, unless its some old bachelor and it don't matter much for him, anyway, as he isn't much ood. And yet you'll go from listening to me and our the stuff down your throat, you old soaker ou. In God's name, quit your drinking. THE BELL-ELLIS COMBINATION.

The opera house was literally packed with people last night, and judging by the demonstra-tions of the audience, no show could have pleased Ellis's "Cyclone of Novelties" - making together combination that is both interesting and entertain-ing. The marionettes furnished a great deal of amusement, moving about and acting in a life-like manner. Some of their acts are very finner, especially that in which they appear as minstrels. The skeleton that dances about the stage in sections is a really wonderful piece of stage mechanism. Sargifield Abraham, "the greatest living panoptical, gives cleve: imitations of prominent people. The Japanese juggler and the chair balancer are especially good. Mediton each chair balancer are especially good. Majilton and his enchanted butterflies formed an interesting feature. His dexterty is really wonderful, and his work is, for the most part, new. The performance concludes with "Fun in the Moon," which was quite in u chable.

But to most of those present the most interesting enture of all was the drawing for presents. A long ist of things were drawn—articles of more or less raine. The principal presents last night were taken as f. Hows:
Tea set, 55 pieces, J. N. Gill, colored: chamber set,

and many others.

The performance will be repeated tonight, when another lot of presents, including a dinner set of 156 pieces, a silver watch and 159 other presents, will be awarded. Popular prices.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 12th, 1889.—The Atlanta Chamber of commerce, by its president and board of directors, herewith beg to represent to his honor,

Mayor Glenn, and to the honorable council of Atlanta that the chamber should be exempt from all city taxes, and we respectfully pray that the amount paid for such taxes for the year 1888 be refunded, and that said chamber of commerce be relieved from such taxation in the future for the following reasons:

That Atlanta chamber of commerce was organized in 1883, and has since that time been conducted entirely in the interest of Atlanta and her citizens, and is a constant and direct benefit to the city. That by reason of the various correspondence and publications which this chamber has hereto ore disseminated and is now daily distributing, much good has resulted, and many irras and individuals have been induced to visit, invest and in many cases remain in Atlanta permanently. That this chamber and its membership has always been the lirst to encourage and in every way possible wisist any new enterprise calculated to advance the interests of this city. Mr. Haas then introduced a resolution in structing the committee on public buildings and grounds to rent the second floor of the chamber of commerce at $1,400 a year.

"Now, in support of that resolution," said Mr. Haas, "I desire to say that the main hall on the second floor of this building has been used by the people os Atlanta whenever they wanted it and without any charge. The chamber of commesce cannot be exempt from taxation, but I want to do what I can for it." "That petition should go to the tax commit-

"I think the ordinance a good one," said Mr. Inman, "provided the boud the bank gives is a good one."

Mr. Howell asked Mr. Inman if the city could not get all the money she wanted in New York at four per cent. Mr. Inman doubted it. "The Central Railway and Banking company," said Mayor Glenn, "pays citizens of Savannah an interest on daily balances. But this ordinance deals with only one bank."

"It is intended," said Mr. Inman, "to divide the money among the banks."
"I suggest," said Mr. Haas, "that the paper be recognited to the finance committee."

"Because the bank has state funds," said Mr. Howell, "I see no reason why it should be ostracized—no reason why it should not have the city's money. Such legislation is wrong." "Give us equal rights," said Mr. Woodward. "You might as well say," said Mr. Howell, "that a citizen who puts his money in a bank where the state has its money is not safe." "He ain't," said Mr. Woodward. "The state has thefirst lien on that money." "Let the treasurer keep the city's money separate," said Mr. Howell. "That can all be arranged."

Mr. Moran then asked to have the paper recommitted to the finance committee, and that wad done.

THE STREET TAX. Mr. Middlebrooks, of the tax committee, submitted an ordinance making the street tax $2.50.

"I call for the ayes and nays on that," said Mr. Thompson.
As the report was being read Mr. Haas, Mr. McLendon and Mr. Meador were in one corner of the chamber discussing a report. As. Mr. Thompson made his motion Mr. Haas began a discussion of the question.

"Go to your seat," said the mayor, "and you will be recognized."
Mr. Haas walked across the floor, discussing the question as he moved. As he reached his chair Mayor Glenn remarked:

"Now you are recognized, Mr. Haas."
Mr. Haas opposed the ordinance and moved to table it. Said he:

"One dollar is street tax enough."

"I think," said Mr. Thompson, "that the manner in which charity is dispensed in Atlanta is a burning shame to any community. "I have never interfered with your relief fund," said Mayor Glenn, "except when I thought the warden too extravagant."

"What I do I do in the kindest spirit," said Mr. Thompson. "Hunter has too much to do. He can't be a policeman and warden too."

"I think," said Mr. Woodward, "that this entire matter ought to go back to the relief committee for adjustment. The negro has no relief. I do not propose to give any for the vagabond, but there are worthy negroes dependent upon the whites for care, and we ought to see that they get the relief when needed. We owe this to the negro because they helped to build up the town."

"I can't see where the negro should be dragged into this," said Mr. Middlebrooks, unless it is to kill the report."

"Whenever the negroes," said Mr. Haas, "get up a home of their own, I will be willing to help them."

Boston Museum. Notwithstanding the rain yesterday, the museum at the corner of Pryor and Decatur streets, was well patronized, the large room being well filled at each hourly exhibition. The afternoon audiences being largely composed of ladies and children. The collection of animals is large, and embraces many rare and interesting little creatures from the Brazilian forests, as well as the African jungles. Mr. Incos, the giant, is very much admired, yet his appearance is anything but preposessing. He holds undisputed posession of one end of the room. Miss LaVor, a bright-eyed little miss, presides over a den of huge snakes which she has in apparent subjection to her will. Her pet is an African Boa constrictor, and his small black eyes bespeak anything but an amiable-disposition, as he opens his mouth and displays four rows of needle-like teeth. Miss LaVor is not in the least envied by the audience. A very interesting explanatory lecture is given every hour, in which each curiosity is introduced and fully explained. An hour can be pleasantly and prolitably spent in the museum, as wonderous amount of knowledge regarding the extinct races can be gained. A change of programme is promised many rare and interesting little creatures from the ned. A change of programme is promise for next week.

HONORABLE SATISFACTION.

An Amicable Adjustment of the Treeble Between a Jeweler and Tragedian. It is settled.

There is not the faintest tinge of crimson on the moon this morning, Mr. Scott Thornton having decided not to chew up Mr. E. W.

Mr. Thornton had prepared a written demand for a disclaimer and was on the point of forwarding it to Mr. Blue, when the following note was handed the tragedian:
ATLANTA, Ga., April 1st, 1889.—Mr. Scott Thorns

ATLANTA, Ga., April 18, 1885 and Scott Tuttion I ton—Despite: In this morning's Constitution I notice a statement regarding your taking offense at my ad, in the paper of yesterday. Without waiting for the proposed letter mentioned therein, I haster to write you myself, disavowing any intention if give offense in any way whatever; and the only excuse I can render for the indiscretion is that I excuse I can render for the indiscretion is that if fellow don't always know how what he writes will sound in print. I have always entertained feelings of friendship for you, and desire only to treat you to a gentleman. I suppose the reason I took the liberty I did with your name was because there has been so much said in the papers in a jesting way about you. But if it is really so that you are offended I hereby apologies and most humbly be your pardon. You are at liberty to use this letter in any manner you see fit, trusting it will be entirely satisfactory. Yours respectfully, E. W. Blue. After reading it very carefully Mr. Thorne.

After reading it very carefully Mr. Thorn-ton's face relaxed its stern expression, and with a pleased look he showed the amende hond orable to several friends who pronounced it a orable to several friends who pronounced it a manly and eminently satisfactory letter.

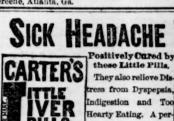

Mr. Blue's little note came in the very nick of time or perhaps saved him from a doubly horrible fate. Aside from Mr. Thornton's savagely expressed intention to gnaw his person—the young tra-ge-di-an had deliberately made up his mind to sue Mr. Blue for damages.

Exchange. NEW YORK, April 1,-The stock market today

NEW YORK, April 1.—The stock market today was dull throughout, and two or three stocks monopolized all the interest there was in the transactions. The market seemed without interest at the opening and the general list continued through the day to fluctuate between the smallest limits, with little feature to mark the dealing. Atchison was again the pivotal point in the list and the pressure was renewed upon it with its first sales and at its lowest point, which was lower than any price yet. owest point, which was lower than any price yet seen on its present depression. NEW ORLEANS, April 1-[Special.]-Glenny & Violett, in their cotton circular, say: Receipts today at ports 7,000 against 10,700 bales last week and 6,400 bales year. Stock at ports are 106,000 bales less than last year. Livetpool was unexpectedly good after the receipts of Saturday, opening slightly better and closed lower. The market here 1 to 2 points lower than Saturday, but nothing coing. Spots here quiet and firm; sales 2,500 bales; niddlings 9 15-16.

NEW YORK, April i-[Special.]-Henry Clews & Co's cotton circular on the market today says: The cotton market today has ruled extremely dull and uninteresting. Liverpool came in a shade better at the opening, spots havin a hardening ten-dency and intures being 1-64 higher, but the market lacked life and closed barely steady. At the open-ing of our market the early months showed a gain of 1 to 2 points while there was a decline of 1 point in late months. Extreme duliness caused the early gains to be lost and the result of the day's business is a net loss of about 2 points on all the options. The interior receipt were quite free and in a measure caused some selling, in the southern spot markets, here there is nothing for sale at present, quotations. The facelyst for the day were estimated at 7,000 tales against 10,681 last week and 6,683 last 7.000 tales against 10,684 last week and 6,463 last year. The total receipts for the week are estimated ervatives at 45,000 bales. Owing to the pres-row state of the market, we would still advise purchases and taking quick profits.

TO MAKE ATLANTA GREAT.

THE BESSEMER ORES OF NORTH GEORGIA.

Professor Dobson Tells of Their Richness-Why Canada Ores Can't Compete-About Commercial

Professor C. M. Dobson, who caused a stir in the Commercial Union club at Toronto last year when he told the iron men there that even if the duty of seventy-five cents a ton were removed they could not compete with southern ores at Pittsburg, was in the city

He is a young Englishman, little over thirty years of age, who has had an unusually broad experience. He has examined the bessemer ores of Spain, England's principal resource in steel making, and has seen the best mineral deposits of this continent in Canada and the

To the question," where have you found the great mineral resources?" he replied, "Here in the south. Your strong point is in bessemer ores. North Georgia is rich in them and has a great future in steel making. I was Struck with Atlanta's solidity and enterprise. She is a great city, and the ores of north Georgia with her railroad facilities will make her

"Here is an analysis I made of bessemer ore I found in Whitfield county: It has 87 per cent of terric oxide, equal to 60.90 of metallic iron, 45 of one per cent of support. .04 of one per cent of phosphorus, $.76 per cent of silica, and 2.75 per cent of alumina and lime. This makes a bessemer ore of high grade, and the silica, alumina and lime grade, and the silica, alumina and lime make a natural flux. This self fluxing property obviates the necessity of using limestone, and that will save at least a dollar a ton in the cost of producing the pig. This ore is not more than lifty miles from coal, and the quantity is practically unlimited. Professor Caldon, who has been all over Piedmont region, tells me that there is plenty of ore as good as this and even better in other parts of North Georgia. With reference to manganese, the high per centage of manganese dioxide shown by analyses will undoubtedly cause an investigation by such large manufacturers of ferro manganese as Carnegie Brothers and Phipps. Mr. Andrew Carnegie has person lly investigated manganese deposits in this ate within the last few weeks. last few weeks.

manganese deposits in this ate within the last few weeks.

"I made an analysis of a psilomelane ore from north Georgia which had 59.75 per cent of metallic manganese. This kind of ore is worth in Pittsburg $14 a ton for 40 per cent metallic manganese and ten cents more for every point above that. This ore on that basis would be worth $15.97 a ton in Pittsburg.

The reason why Canada cannot compete with the south on iron is that their ores which are of fine quality are remote from coal. The coal mines of the west are two thousand miles away and it is over nine hundred miles from the iron to the Nova Scotia coal. Labor there costs $2.50 a dayland you get it here for seventy-five cents. They cannot compete with that without a subsidy.

"The Galena and silver mines of Canada would be very much benefitted by commercial miles and the more of the more than the mines would all feel.

"The Galena and silver mints of Canada would be very much benefitted by commercial union and the profitable mines would all feel the influence of American energy and capital. Canadian capital is slow to go into mining. It goes readily into lumber. There is not a smelting furnace in the dominion.

"There is a great prejudice against Englishmen there, though the population is about 40 per cent Scotch and about 35 per cent Irish, with probably 25 per cent of Frenchmen.

"The question of annexation has been under discussion in the house of commons, and a proposition put to the vote there last week developed the strength of the respective sides. It was lost by a vote of 277 to 125. Commercial union is regarded by the anti-annexationists as an entering wedge for annexation, as it would amount to that.

SHE NURSED FOUR GENERATIONS. Death of Old Aunt Mary, Governor Gordon's Family Servant.

She had seen the snows of fourscore and five winters.

Sunday afternoon, when she knew that she was going out with the sunset, her last moments were cheered by the presence of Mrs. Gordon and her family, and the parting was so affecting that there was not a dry eye in the room, when the mistress gave the parting hand class to the faithful old servant.

Aunt Mary was born a slave to the family of Judge Lewis, who lived first in Greene county, and afterward moved to LaGrange. Her ancestry had belonged in the family for two hundred years, back on James river, Virginia, where the Lewises lived.

She went with Miss Lewis, as maid when the latter became the bride of General Haralson,

She went with Miss Lewis, as maid when the latter became the bride of General Haralson, and through the stocky period when General Haralson represented his district in congress, Aunt Mary went with the family to Washington, New York, and other northern cities.

Abolitionism was red hot, and nurse Mary was so afraid of being kidnapped that she refused to go with the children in the parks and on the streets of New York City. She would say:

With her young mistress to whom she was devoted, she shared the vicissitudes of the camp and the field when the hills of Virginia reverberated with the tunuit of war.

camp and the field when the hills of Virginia reverberated with the tunuit of war. Governor Gordon said of her yesterday: "She was just as near a perfect personification of all that was honest, faithful and true as any human being that I ever saw."

When she came to Kirkwood, the country home of the Gordons, she was provided for in the most comfortable manner that her former master and mistress could devise. She cared not for the freedom that Lincoln's proclamation brought her, and remained true to the instincts of the eld southern slaves who were blessed with kind and indulgent owners.

Four generations of people whom she had nursed were there at her death, Major Lewis, who is an inmate of Governor Gordon's household, representing the oldest; Mrs. Gordon, his niece, who, with Mrs. Judge Bleckley, Mrs. Overby and Mrs. Pace, represent the second; Mrs. Hugh Gordon of the third, and his children of the fourth generation.

And, as a striking parallel, there were three generations of Aunt Mary's family on the place—her children, grandchildren and greatgrandchildren.

The old nurse was hale and hearty till with-

A GOOD SUGGESTION

An Interesting Article About One of Our City's Greatest Wants. There is not a Sunday's Constitution but what the public read an advertisement couched in most eloquent language about Biue. Often the most elequent language about Biue. Often the weakly papers contain statements about Jumbo Hunter, the famoux, fearless, watchful policeman. If you will pertail, we beg to call the attention of a large number of people to the fact that we are not office seekers nor politicians, honce we trust that you will give us your attention, for which we will be thankful; and as we have the interest of so many at stake it becomes necessary to speak in clear unmistakable language. By hard work and persistent efforts we have the pleasure of announcing the fact that up to April 1st, 1889, we have secured 935 telephone subscribers, and are anxious to increase the humber to 1,000 or more before the 1st of May. To do this we solicit every one who needs a 'phone to give us their orders at one. Telephone 899 if you want a 'phone or know of any one who needs and would subscribe for one. The citizens of Atlanta, as a rule, are anxious to succeed in every enterprise, and do not care to offend anyone, and have often requested us to prohibit non-subscribers using the telephone. This we are anxious to do, since it obstructs the service as d prevents parties from getting the use of the 'phone after they have padl for it. There are a large number who have been procrastinating and using other people's 'phones, and are worrying those who would be their friends if they were not so obreckly papers contain statements about Jumbo people's 'phones, and are worrying those who would be their friends if they were not so obnoxious. Every one who needs a 'phone ought to subscribe for one, and let those who do enjoy a rest. There are some diposed to beheve or act as if they were pensioners on the goodness and mercy of their neighbors, and live whether they work or not, and think that in addition to the half loaf they enjoy at the telephone company and subscribers ought o furnish a telephone. It is only twelve days before the new list will be published, and we are unxfousto know how many will give in their orders before that time for what they have long needed, and give Atlanta the long looked for day when one thousand or more telephone bells can be ringing and the signal that an order awaits you, and I have not time to bring it in person, but have a telephone for ny own business to save time, and avoid using my. neighbors' and act well my part and help give lanta the lead in this respect as in every other. These who subscribe at once will get a special notice in THE Constitution and Journal, which will well repay them for their promptness in ordering a telephone, inasmuch as they need it, and their order will help to cap the number to 1000 New York rates are $1.0 and $180 per year; Chicago, $125; Boston and Pailadelphia, $1.0 Cincinnati. Baltimore, St. Louis, Pittsburg an New Orleans, $100; in Atlanta, $00. Residence, $10, within one-half mile of exchange—15 to 18 cents for business, and 11 to 16 cents per day for residen :e.owing to distance. Why should the subscribers be worried by their neighbors when raies are so low? Why should people do without their use when they need them, and they can get them so cheap? There is no argument against subscribing, if you need the 'phode, and we Never during the last twelve years have the sales of Elegant approximated what they are now. The old maxim "The Best is the Cheapest," is fully demonstrated in its use. We believe where a faithful comparison is made, as it has often been made in this city, the economical housekeeper will decide in favor of Elegant. The present immense sales of this flour, which is sold on a closer margin than any other in the unarket, seems to demonstrate its superlative excellence. Order a barrel in wood if convenient. Stopped Taking Morphine.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 16, 1888

DEAR ER—With much pleasure I am happy to say I am a well woman today, and have gained 37 pounds since I stopped taking morphine. After taking the first dose of your medicine did not want any more morphine, and my friends who saw me a month before I started to taking your medicine do not know me. You have made me a well and hearty woman, and I hope God will bless you and that you may cure all afflicted, for when a woman gets fitto the habit she had as well be dead. When I left Cedar Keys and came here, and when your medicine gave out I was all right, I wanted to wait and see if I would remain so. Doctor, you can use my name if you wish. I was taking six grains morphine a day. Your obedient servant and sincere friend,

That dignified and serious-minded young man met a harder fate. He came in fresh and exhilarated from a Turkish bath, swallowed the caramel and received therefrom such an inward lathering as he hopes never to know again. Getting shaved wan't a circumstance. He sat him down in sorrowful silence, placing the caramels in a nice white paper, as he therested of the feelighness and deceit of mankind. ght of the foolishness and deceit of maukind.

The society editor coming in, blithely viewed the caramels the first thing; and thought there was never so stingy a man as she-dropped one in her mouth without being asked. She had been giving soft soap to others for many months. There was her reward. Cast your soap upon the worldly waters and it will return unto you after many days in the shape of

Mrs. Rhode Hill's dramatic entertainment, to be given after Lent, is one of the most looked-forward-to of the spring festivities. Everybod, knows about Mrs. Hill's little private theater in the third story of her elegant Peachtree residence, and third story of her elegant Penchtree residence, and everybody who has been there knows it is a gem. Many new additions have been made in the way of lights and seenery which will render this place more attractive than ever. Still, what would the grand opera house in Paris be to the audience if they hadn't fine actors? and this is the crowning glory of Mrs. Hill's theater. The stars of the first magnitude will shine against realistic and beautiful backgrounds. The members of the little company had a rehearsal last evening. ad a rehearsal last evening.

A quiet and beautiful wedding ceremony was that at the residence of Mr. J. C. Bowen, 180 South Forsyth street, last evening. It was the marriage of Miss Emma Bowen to Mr. Philip Raiford, There were present a large number of friends of the contracting parties, and the house, which was prettilly decorated for the occasion, presented a brilliant scene. The ceremony was performed by Rev. enry McDonald, D. D.

After the ceremony a reception was held, many friends tendering their hearty congratulations to the young people starting out upon life's journey together. They were also the recipients of many beautiful presents. An elegant supper was served and Mr. and Mrs. Raiford left at 11:30 for Montgom-

THE NEW SUPERINTENDENT OF THE RAILWAY AND MAIL SERVICE

Takes Charge-General William Phillips Receives a Letter From Washington-A Well Informed Republican Expresses the Opinion That Colonel Buck Will Not Apply for Any Office, But Will Devote His Time to the Development of His Alabama Property.

Mr. L. M. Terrell, the new superintendent of the railway mail service, took charge of the office yesterday.

In answer to questions Ar, Terrell said that thing had been decided upon in regard to changes in the department. He could not tell what, if any, changes would be made.
"I think," said Mr. Terrell, "that good men with good records in the service will be retained-and that good men who have been dropped will be put in as vacancies occur.

The object is to build up and perfect the service and efficient men are always in demand." General William Phillips, assistant United States district attorney, received a letter from Washington yesterday notifying him that his services will be dispensed with as soon as his successor shall be appointed. General Phillips has already rented a law office in the selephone exchange building and is ready to give up the position at any moment.

DOES HE WANT OFFICE?
"You want to know what Colonel Buck wants, do you?" asked a well informed gentleman yesterday. "Well, Colonel Buck could be marshal if he wanted the place; but the fact is, I don't believe Colonel Buck wants any office. He has large interests in Atlanta which require his attention, and I think that he would prefer to be foot-loose, so that he can devote his entire time to them. I happen to know that Colonel Buck has not put in an application for any office, and I don't believe he intends to apply." "Will he retain the clerkship of the circuit court ?'

"Possibly, but I doubt it. I have an idea that he will give up that place to Dr. C. B. Arnold, because I am satisfied that Walter H. Johnson is going to be collector of internal revenue."

He continued: "General Lewis will be He continued: "General Lewis will be postmaster. They can't get around that empty sleeve. Besides all that, General Lewis has the respect of the people of Atlanta, and is a man of good executive ability. Billy Wilson is hard to beat, but the Buck men seem to be
